

By CEO Lars Skou

June 2016

An exciting spring has passed, and our new production plant for supplements is now implemented and running well.

Our program of the above products has been expanded, and at the same time we have opened new markets in both the Middle East and the Far East and also strengthened our sales in South America.

During the recent year we have chosen to make an essential investment in a heat recycling plant, as we as a company want to take initiatives giving a better environment, such as we have made a clear CSR policy describing the rules which we want to follow in R2 Agro and thus have a clear Code of Conduct, which besides can be found on our home page:

<http://www.r2agro.com/csr.aspx>

R2 Agro is looking forward to continuously developing new products that can contribute to better production results for the agribusiness and thus make our contribution to improvement of finances and the environmental aspects.

Best regards

Lars Skou

"I would like to wish all our cooperating partners, both customers and suppliers, a fantastic summer".

Leadership— a part of the cultural values at Agro

"We stay up-to-date on market developments and product trends and base new initiatives on our knowledge. We are proactive, innovative and willing to act as pioneers within new areas. Our flexibility enables us to make quick decisions".